183 the active securities declined fractionally from top prices in sympathy with the drive at Brooklyn Rapid Transit. Sentiment was decidedly mixed over the coming bank 5 statement, the majority of the traders inclining to the belief that there would be a moderate improvement in the condition of the banks. If the upward move in stocks was nothing more than the discounting of this belief, it will require an unusually favorable statement to carry prices usually favorable statement to carry prices much further before the traders turn for another reaction in prices. Certain it is that the ease in interest rates points to larger available reserves, but do not carry conviction that the money rates will go fower at once or that the bull leaders are willing to begin immediately an acrive campaign for higher prices. It does not follow that stocks will necessarily go lower than the recent low points, as the larger interests have shown conclusively that they were willing to buy stocks at every recession.

London sold upward of 10,000 shares of the various international stocks, but bought extensively of Louisville & Nashville and Atchison preferred. Kaffir shares were better abroad on continued favorable inside advices concerning the Transvaal complication. The foreign exchange market was strong as the result of the covering of short bills by local bankers, causing an advance in actual demand bills of ½c. and a rise of %c. for cables and sixty-day bills. The hardening of the exchange market was one of the unfavorable features of the day, as it clearly indicates that against the opposition of the Bank of England to gold withdrawels for shipment here only an unusually high local money market can bring about further gold imports. The international stocks were generally strong, partly because there was a substantial short interest in them for local account in anticipation of a decline should war occur in South Africa. Buying for the covering of shorts was promounced, not only in the international stocks, but also in the purely local securities. The market had been greatly oversold, and it does not appear that the volume of buying to-day was sufficient to equalize the accounts.

The common stocks of the various industrial corporations were purchased in anticipation of dividend declarations about the first of the year. This was true, particularly, in Federal Steel, American Steel and Wire and American Tin Plate. The estimate of the total wheat crop of 564. 000,000 bushels as compared with the Government figures of 480,000,000 was responsible for the advance in the Granger shares. Brooklyn Rapid Transit led in point of activity, showing a loss of 2% net, to 87½. Efforts were made at the same twee to bold the market in check by forcing down these two specialities.

SHORTS COVERED AT HIGHER PRICES.

The upward movement in the stock market demonstrates conclusively that the market had been oversold and that the shorts, in trying to cover, found an actual dearth of offerings. The larger interests have shown their willingness to buy securities on every recession. The present advance does not necessarily mean that an active bull campaign is to be commenced at once. It is a time for the use of good judgment in the purchase of securities, many of which are undoubtedly excellent investments at the present levels, while others do not hold forth many opportunities on the bull side. Money will undoubtedly work easier, but the advance in sterling exchange shuts off at least temporarily all possibility of gold imports from Europe until the bankers on the other side of the Atlantic can no longer maintain an artificial barrier against them.
